

Co-Creation E-Magazine

Submission Guidelines & Terms

Co-Creation Global is an independent media organization dedicated to sharing positive, inspiring news and stories with a global audience. We provide heart-based, transformational, inspiring and uplifting content for an ever-growing global audience. Co-Creation E-Magazine formerly known as Co-Creation Magazine is known for its quality content from leading authors in the field of Consciousness, Health and Wellbeing, Energy Medicine, Conscious Business, as well as being focused on the field of One Consciousness.

Co-Creation E-Magazine was inspired as a platform and voice for a new generation of influencers, writers and bloggers, who aspire to change global consciousness. Our platform is designed to be multimedia, meaning that we will accept quality articles as text, podcasts and quality video stories.

The following guidelines are aimed at writers and who are looking to contribute to Co-Creation E-Magazine; we will also accept good quality podcasts and video stories with accompanied text transcripts and graphics headers.

IMPORTANT MESSAGE

When you submit your articles and Multi- Media material it is important that you provide the following support material, otherwise we cannot profile you as the author or provide ways for people to find their way to you.

Regular Contributors

- Standard head and shoulders picture
- A link back to your website or product page
- A link to your FB or Social Media Page of Choice.
- A 50-70 word mini-bio for your ongoing profile.
- Posting to the authors profile page

Occasional Contributors

- Standard head and shoulders picture
- A 50 word mini-bio for your article profile.
- A link back to your website or product page.

General Submission Guidelines

If you are interested in writing for Co-Creation E-Magazine, please take a look at some of the examples on the site and get a sense how your writing or voice style would work best in this format:-

- We encourage you to write from the heart, in a way that inspires others to see that your stories or experiences may bring those people answers and inspiration.

- Aim to create positive and elevating stories that can enrich people's lives and enable inner transformation.
- Share with love, respect, and gratitude that your material is making a difference in the world... and that which you give, comes back in many ways.
- Invite people to awaken to their true nature, that we are all extensions of the one Source Consciousness, here to experience physical reality in all its form.
- Invite people to see they are a Source Frequency.. Which is LOVE? The world is exactly how the global consciousness co-created it, for collective transformation and healing. We are not here to fix anything , we are here to experience everything .. No exceptions. In Your articles we invite you to teach and not preach.
- We suggest you invite people to be of service to the global whole. That is; to explore and participate in a journey with your Source Self and your infinite possibilities.
- Encourage people not to get lost in the mirage of local physical reality which is tethered to a state of unconsciousness, but to wake up to the infinite possibilities of your Source Frequency.
- Do not indulge the reader, reinforcing existing beliefs or ways of being, based upon cultural or theological practices that invite separation and fear, rather than love and oneness.
- Offer something the reader can use or take away.

Submission Standards and Requirements

For Text Based Articles

- Submissions are usually between 800-1500 plus words (with some flexibility).
- We prefer innovative articles, so please include research, sources, if it is a discourse on a specialized theme. We encourage personalized stories that explain a point. i.e. Awakening, Consciousness, Healing etc
- Please ensure your articles and other material has been fully edited, including grammar, punctuation, spell checked and page layout. We recommend using Grammarly, and your word processing software to pre-edit the document. We also suggest that you read the article out loud at least twice, to help you pick up errors or omissions. Also, if possible, get someone else to read it. We only have a small volunteer editorial team, and we ask you to be aware that we will possibly reject articles that do not meet submission standards.
- We have a large range of genres that we publish in. Please specify which genre or genres your article fits in. Here are some examples:

- Co-Creation
  - Health and Wellbeing
  - Spirituality
  - Planetary Consciousness
  - Conscious Parenting
  - Prosperity and Abundance
  - Relationships
  - Energy Healing
  - Conscious Business and Leadership
  - Inner Transformation
  - Sustainability
- Please ensure that your articles have a clear title and subheadings, which clearly illustrate the content and context of the article.
  - Your writing style should avoid self-promotional or be intentionally focused to a particular group, but should aim to appeal to a wider audience.
  - We do not allow advertorials, advertising, promotional or sponsored content, unless approved by the managing editor.
  - We prefer you provide originally written articles even if you are making a contribution from a book you have written. Excerpts or extracts from previously published books, periodicals, or blogs will need approval by the editorial staff.

- If possible, you can also provide validated copyright free images with your text. This means you choose the right image to go with your story ... and saves a lot of time.
- If this is not possible, our staff will select an appropriate image from our extensive library

Audio Podcasts and Video Stories

Our E-Magazine Page is designed to handle multimedia. This means we will have the options to post :

- Audio Podcasts. These need to be submitted with the following format and supporting facilities.
  - Links to your Podcast MP3 files
  - Copyright free Graphics which may illustrate the content... or we can provide the image if you do not have tools or skill to do so.
  - A 50- 100 word Description of the podcast outlining the theme, including a Header.

- Podcasts can be from 30 minutes to 2 hours. We will also consider serialized stories.
- Video Stories. These need to be submitted in the following format and quality standards.
  - As a MP4 file. Preferably as a link to where its source file is stored. I.e. YouTube, Vimeo etc.
  - Presentation and a professionally prepared and edited video are essential.
  - Videos should have good quality lighting, sound, and basically a neutral background. But green screen background effects or video backgrounds work if you have the editing skills.
  - The storytelling is similar to an audio podcast , but you have the added benefit of video optics and music , which provide another dimension of engagement.
  - If you use third party videos or music , please ensure to have a copyright release, or have obtained these as license free products.
  - Videos can be from 30 - 60 minutes in duration
  - If you have the editing capability, we suggest you also produce a 5 minute promotional video to accompany the main story

Regular and Occasional Contributors

- As an online based publication, Co-Creation E-Magazine, prefers consistent content on a regular and timely basis .So we need to know if you are submitting as:
- Regular Contributors .. One who is committed to submitting one article a month by the first of the month, every month.
- Occasional Contributors... One who submits an article whenever they feel like it.

What we give back

- Regular Contributors. We provide the following support and promotional facilities to those who support us on an ongoing basis.

- Link backs to your Website, Product Page, and Main Social Media Page.
- Authors name and credits
- Your story featured for one week on the home page, every month.
- Your story and links to your story posted and shared on social media in cooperation with yourself.
- If you have any programs or courses ready that fit with our content and context, we will give you options to do affiliate marketing campaigns and joint ventures.
- After 3 months of continuous contributions, you are given a profile on our regular contributor's page.
- Occasional Contributors. We provide the following support for these contributors.
  - Links back to your main Web Page or Product page
  - Authors name and credits

Submission Terms

- Co-Creation Global and Co-Creation E-Magazine accepts article submissions by email only to: contributor@co-creationglobal.com or through a contact portal on our website
- By submitting your work to Co-Creation Articles you agree:-

- To give Co-Creation Global and Co-Creation E-Magazine exclusive “use rights” in perpetuity.
- That you may only use our edited and published article (with credit and link) in publications that you own or control such as your personal website, blog or social media with our express permission.
- That you certify this is your own original work, and that any excerpts of other work are clearly cited as fair use or public domain.
- You accept that no financial rewards are offered.
- You accept that Co-Creation E-Magazine does not allow advertising, promotional or sponsored material unless agreed with the managing editor.
- You accept that Co-Creation E-Magazine does not allow content that is pertaining to the transmission of political agendas, activism of any kind, conspiracy theories, or specific religious ideologies. Any health related articles may be checked for accuracy or supported by a public domain standard of acceptance,
- We also reserve the right:-

- To edit your work and to choose what we use for final publication (including title, text or any images provided), for stylistic reasons and/or copyright issues.
- To have the final say on what is or not published by Co-Creation E-Magazine.
- You will only hear back from Co-Creation E-Magazine, If your submission is accepted for publication.

We are most grateful for your contribution to this publication and to humanity for offering your piece of the puzzle of life . We appreciate you taking this step with us into a new dimension of human evolution, through expanded awareness and love.

The Co-Creation Global Team.

